Let's look at this week's story

Brazil's new president has said he aims to reduce deforestation and help protect the Amazon rainforest. In his first speech, Luiz Inácio da Silva (also known as Lula), promised to make climate protection a priority and explained he wanted to reach zero deforestation in the Amazon. Scientists often call the rainforest the 'lungs of the planet', because of the role it plays in absorbing carbon dioxide and producing oxygen, saying that preservation of the Amazon is vital to stopping climate change.

Reflection ...

WWJD

As human beings, we are part of God's creation. We have a responsibility to care for and look after our beautiful world. Sometimes we make mistakes and cause damage to the world. God forgives us and helps us to do better.

Brazil's new president is serving his people and the whole world in helping to reduce deforestation.

'Whenever you do something for someone else, you do it for me'

Reflection and Prayer

Dear God,

Thank you for our beautiful world.

Thank you for the Amazon rainforest and all the wonderful plants and animals in it.

We are sorry for the damage we cause by using things that mean forests have to be cut down.

Help us to serve and look after the world by making good choices.

Amen.

Response and Challenge

Think of a beautiful place. What do you need to do to look after it?

Find out about the rainforest and how it is affected by deforestation. What can we do to help reduce deforestation?
